The Emperor's Nightingale

The Emperor of China lived in a beautiful palace with a large forest all around it. He liked to read books people wrote about his palace.

One day, the Emperor of China gets a new book about his palace and he reads it.

'What's this? A nightingale? In my forest?' said the emperor.

The emperor is angry because he didn't know about it. He tells his men to go into the forest to find the nightingale.

As they are walking in the forest, they suddenly hear a beautiful song.

'There it is! It is sitting in the tree,' said one of the men.

Help the Earth - Recycle!

Recycling is using something you don't need any more to make something new. This helps the Earth because we don't make so much rubbish.

We can't recycle everything, but we can recycle metal, paper, glass and plastic. For example, we can recycle empty metal cans of soft drinks, boxes and glass bottles. We can use old plastic bottles to make new bottles and also shoes and clothes.

'The palace? Who is this old man?' thought Badang. But he wanted the gold, so he said, 'Of course I can help.'

'Come with me into the river,' said the old man – and he turned into a crocodile. Badang was scared. 'I don't have medicine for crocodiles,' he said, 'and I can't swim!'

'In our palace, we are not crocodiles, we become people like you,' said the crocodile. 'You don't need to swim; I am the king of the crocodiles, and I can carry you.'
